PARAGRAPH

Option 1:

Pirie Voices is a locally grown initiative that puts the people of Port Pirie at the heart of shaping their own future. It's an aspiration for Port Pirie to be the best place it can to live and work, by amplifying what's already strong within the community. With support from local organisations, government partners, and everyday residents, Pirie Voices is building a shared vision through 1,000 conversations, capturing hopes, challenges, and ideas. Everyone is invited to be part of this journey, because real change starts with listening and working together.

Option 2:

Pirie Voices is about the people of Port Pirie shaping our own future. No one knows the community better than the people who live, work, and rely on it. Over the next year, we'll hear from 1,000 local voices to understand what matters most. And from there, any plans or actions will be guided by the community, for the community — so we decide and take action together, focusing on what matters most to us.

LONGER STATEMENTS

Option 1:

Pirie Voices is a bold and inspiring community-led movement that began in Port Pirie, not as a response to crisis, but as a proactive step toward a better future. It's built on the belief that communities thrive when they lead their own change.

Unlike traditional programs designed elsewhere, Pirie Voices emerged from local conversations and collaboration, bringing together residents, industry, service providers, and government agencies in a shared effort. The initiative is now entering Phase One: a year of listening, where 1,000 conversations will be held across the community to understand people's hopes, challenges, and ideas.

These conversations will be led by trusted locals, parents, teachers, Elders, young people, who know their communities best. The goal is to create a roadmap for change that reflects what matters most to Port Pirie. With national recognition already growing, Pirie Voices is proving that when communities lead, and governments walk alongside, lasting change is not only possible, it's powerful. Everyone in Port Pirie is invited to be part of this movement and help shape a future that belongs to us all.

Option 2:

Change happens when the people most affected are part of driving it. We want a future shaped by those who know Port Pirie best – the people who call it home, work here, or depend on it. Decisions about our community belong with us – that means working together, giving everyone a voice, and building a future that reflects who we are and what we value.

Over the next year, we'll hear from 1,000 local voices to understand what matters most. From there, any plans or actions will be guided by the community, for the community – so we decide and take action together, focusing on what matters most to us.
